Dear Bill,

Thanks for your fine reception report which was accurate. To answer your questions, WDRC-AM is a 5 kw non-directional daytime, directional nighttime AM station. We transmit using 2-N220' towers located at our studio (AM & FM) site in Bloomfield, Ct., less than 1/2 mile from the Hartford line. Our AM format is "Oldies", via Satellite from the Unistar Oldies Channel Network. Yes, we do RX quite a few DX letters from as far away as Finland. WDRC is a station of quite a few firsts - being the first AM station in Ct. (then located in New Haven), the first commercial FM station in the country, and one of the first FMX FM stations in the country (I think - the first commercial).

I hope this answers your questions and good luck with your DX'ing! (I also have a Sony ICF 2010 - great radio, eh?!) 73's.
